Hi Folks,

After wresting with the idea of coaching or not I've decided I will not coach basketball again next season. It's been a tough decision but I think the right one. I have loved every minute of it but want you to have time to get someone in place to do summer stuff. I'm going to practice a lot of baseball with Conner and don't think I can dedicate the time to the basketball team that's needed. Maybe on down the road but I want to focus on Conner for his first year in college. Thanks again for all your support.
